

Contact: Anna Blair, VP of Strategy
REACH Air Medical Services
(707) 508-6204 | Anna.Blair@REACHAir.com

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

REACH Air Medical Services Opening Base in Napa
24/7 Air Ambulance Resource will Serve Local Communities

Santa Rosa, CA – March 28, 2017 REACH Air Medical Services (REACH), headquartered in Santa Rosa, CA, announced the opening of a new air ambulance base in Napa County. The base, located at the Napa County Airport, will begin 24/7 air medical transport service next month. The central location will serve patients and customers in a number of surrounding counties, as well as provide back up to the company's other bases in the region.

REACH Air Medical Services is opening a base in Napa, CA. The base, scheduled to open in April, will provide 24/7 critical care transport services to patients throughout the area.

REACH flies patients from the scene of an accident or from one hospital to another when time is of the essence or a more advanced level of care is needed. On board the medically equipped EC135 helicopter, a team of highly skilled Flight Nurses and Flight Paramedics manage the patient's critical care.

Sean Russell, President of REACH Medical Holdings, was pleased to share his comments. "This base opening means a lot to me. I started my career in EMS within this region. I know first-hand how important it is to have an air ambulance resource like this available in the community. Over the years, our crews have transported more than 135,000 patients to needed care. That is not just a number; it represents individual lives that each touch many more lives. I am humbled by this."

The company, which started 30 years ago this year with a single base in Northern California, has grown to include 43 air medical base locations in California, Oregon, Nevada, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado and Texas as well as four ground ambulance bases. REACH Medical Holdings, the parent company of REACH, CALSTAR Air Ambulance, Cal-Ore Life Flight and Sierra Lifeflight, also manages the pilots, maintenance technicians and the aircraft for seven hospital or EMS agency programs. Under these programs, REACH provides aviation services while the hospital or EMS agency manages some of the clinical teams and daily operations.

REACH is a participating provider to the AirMedCare Network, the nation's largest air ambulance membership network. Memberships are available to the public for $65 a year for an entire household and cover costs for an emergency flight by REACH, or any of the Network's more than 265 air base locations across 32 states.

As the company continues to grow, it is important to Mr. Russell that they do not lose sight of the founder's guiding principal. Dr. John McDonald, who was a medical pioneer in many ways that have benefitted the EMS field, founded REACH with the philosophy always do what is right for the patient. Mr. Russell notes that direction has served REACH well for three decades and he expects that legacy to carry on today.

About REACH Air Medical Services

REACH Air Medical Services, headquartered in Santa Rosa, CA, provides critical care air and ground transport service to communities throughout California, Oregon, Nevada, Montana, Texas, Colorado and Wyoming. Since 1987, the company has safely transported more than 135,000 ill or injured patients to needed care. REACH employs hundreds of highly trained nurses, medics, pilots and aircraft maintenance technicians to provide service to patients using their fleet of medically equipped helicopters, airplanes, and ground ambulances. REACH is accredited by the Commission on Accreditation of Medical Transport Systems (CAMTS), which is the gold standard for patient care and safety in the air medical transport industry. For more information, visit www.REACHAir.com.

About AirMedCare Network

REACH Air Medical Services is a provider to the AirMedCare Network, America's largest air medical transport membership network, providing emergency access to the highest level of care for its more than two million members. The AirMedCare Network membership program offers service from leading air ambulance providers in 32 states from more than 260 air base locations. For more information, visit www.airmedcarenetwork.com.

#